

2009 IAIE Leadership Institute & World Conference

Leadership Institute: September 30 – October 1, 2009

World Conference: October 1 (PM) – October 3, 2009

Rochester, NY, USA

a marvelous city of culture, education, history, and nearby tourist sites including Niagara Falls, the Finger Lakes Region, and much more Leadership Institute will be day-and-a-half sessions for future leaders and other members of the Alliance. The institute will consist of featured speakers and roundtable discussions to focus on leadership and direction for IAIE. Tentative featured speakers are:

Carol Fries, past Teacher of the Year in New York State and presently a professor of education.

June O'Neil, a former college council president, and currently the New York State Chair of the Democratic Party.

Each participant in the Leadership Institute will receive two leadership books before arriving in Rochester.

IAIE World Conference is the annual gathering of Alliance members to share research and ideas about invitational theory and practices. It will immediately follow the Leadership Institute. The conference will consist of featured speakers and educational sessions. Tentative featured speakers include:

William Purkey, co-founder of IAIE and professor emeritus at UNC-Greensboro

Dean Fink, longtime IAIE member, former school superintendent, international speaker, and author of books on leadership

Charlotte Reed, Chair, IAIE Board of Trustees, founding member of IAIE, and professor of urban education at Indiana University Northwest

Suzanne Gilmore, Executive Director, New York State Women in Education Administration and author.

William Hopkins, founder of special education initiative in Belize based on Invitational Education®

Rich Ognibene, past Teacher of the Year in New York, and nationally recognized author

Other speakers will be announced soon
